March 17, 2020-August 2020, I was feeling anxious, amazed and worried. I felt weirded out because of the pandemic. The CDC said that we need to stay home and go nowhere. I was stressed about never seeing my family and never seeing my friends. I was excited that school was out, but worried that it would never be back to normal. It was crazy that the world was shutting down.

September 2020-May 2021 It was the beginning of seventh grade, and my mom was homeschooling me, again. It was somewhat normal homeschooling again, but my mom still worked in the school. About ~~3~~ throughout the year, my mom decided to put me into Homer again. I was nervous for the changes of the school, yet excited to see my friends again. Until about a week ago, it felt normal to be here, but it won't be the same.

June 2021-September 2021 It has been feeling normal and I hope it will feel more normal in the future, without masks, without having to socially distance myself, and for band to be normal again. I hope to be on the same team as my friends so I can see them again. And I hope air conditioning will be allowed because it's so hot in the summers. I hope to be able to see my friends over the summers more regularly.
